Gardner Webb University Tuition Credits

Gardner-Webb University offers a tuition credit incentive program. Currently, it has a minimum value of $82,800 and a maximum value of $504,000.

For example:

100 new jobs would create an incentive valued at $82,800 - $100,800 depending upon the courses of study chosen.

For each additional 50 new jobs, an additional incentive would be valued at $41,400 - $50,400.

With 500 new jobs, the total incentive package would be valued at $414,000 - $504,000.

Notes:

The business or industry would be able to use these hours to best meet their needs.

The business or industry could place individuals in any of our associate, bachelors, or masters programs.

The credits can be used for up to five years from the date on which the jobs are certified.

To be eligible, the business or industry would have to qualify for the incentive program provided by Cleveland County.

All potential students would be required to meet the admissions requirements of the University.

In programs where we have a limited number of slots, there must be seats available (cannot exceed the maximums due to accreditation guidelines).

When the potential student is eligible for federal or state financial aid, such aid would be deducted from the value of the tuition credit.
